O.S.A. Opens Oct. 28th

On October 28th the Provincial School of Agriculture will open to admit classes for the eleventh school year.

Despite the bad crop conditions that obtain in many districts prospects for a good attendance are very rosy. Already one hundred applications for enrollment have been received and more come daily. This shows that the work of the school is being appreciated, and is directly due to the success achieved by the graduates of the school. Another fifty or more students could well be accommodated this winter, which means that there is still an opening for others who wish to enroll.

The courses for both men and women are of a very practical nature, and the information given is the result of many years of scientific investigation and practical observation. To keep up with the times and make the most money from the farm one should know how to farm in accordance with the most improved methods. You can learn these methods at the O. S. A. in a few months. On the other hand, without such training it would take years of experience to give you the same information. Talk with any ex-student regarding the value of the courses of the O. S. A.

Poppy Day

The G. W. V. A. seeks to bring home a proper spirit of national remembrance by the distribution of poppies, made by war crippled veterans in Alberta. The proceeds from the sale of these little tokens of remembrance provide "service to ex-service men" and thus the faith is kept with those whose last thoughts were for their living loved ones. So, once again, the people of Canada are asked, in the words of Lord Byron of Vimy, to "honor the dead by caring for the living".

The G. W. V. A. is co-operating with the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment, and by the assistance given by willing and able workers to make the campaign a huge success, more employment can be given each year to these disabled veterans in Alberta.

Our slogan is, Wear a Poppy on Armistice Day," if there is not a branch of the G. W. V. A. in your town, let the ladies get out and help them get together and form themselves into a Committee for this purpose.

Poppies are available at the Headquarters of the G. W. V. A. in Alberta, 310 Dominion Bank Building, Calgary, and the Provincial Secretary will be pleased to supply information to anyone enquiring from him.

BRITISH BOYS ANXIOUS TO COME OUT

Under the scheme recently inaugurated by Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, with the overseas settlement board, where, by British young men are to come to Alberta for special training at the Vermilion School of Agriculture, with a view later to placing them on farms, some 50 applications have already been received by the settlement board in London. Although the stipulation was that not less than 100 were to be sent out at once to commence their training.

Splendid Alfalfa Crop

Mr. Dave Irwin called into our office this week and gave us a very enthusiastic report of an eight acre patch of alfalfa he has raised. The seed was planted last year with some greenfeed and came to quite a growth in a short time. This year it came along in splendid style and about the 23rd of August he cut his first crop, getting a ton to an acre, and now reports that he can get a second crop off this year and will be cutting it this week.

Mr. Irwin thinks that alfalfa should do well in this district as it comes to such a splendid growth. The roots go far into the earth and after they get started there is practically no fear of drought hurting them as they go far enough down to get moisture and this also saves them from being winter killed. They make an excellent feed and have many advantages over sunflowers etc.

NEW CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

The Southern Alberta Co-operative Association, which was recently organized in the Lethbridge-Coaldale district, has now secured the necessary number of signers to their five-year produce pool contract and hope to commence operating in the near future. Some 20,000 acres of hay land, representing 25,000 tons of alfalfa and mixed hays, have been signed as well as 4,000 head of hogs and cattle and 18,000 poultry and 3,000 tons of potatoes and other produce.

NORMAL SCHOOL ENROLMENT

The number of students enrolled for the normal schools of the province for the coming term is 605, three hundred and fifty of which are at Calgary and the balance at Camrose.

PASSING OF SLOT MACHINE

Under the new amendment to The Criminal Code, slot machines will go out of business in Alberta October 1 and will not be allowed to operate after that date.

Mayor H. W. Chambers was a visitor at Calgary on Monday.

Mr. Harold Reiber has left for Edmonton to attend the University of Alberta.

Once into the main street, Seymour found a semblance of permanency in the town. The establishments of two rival trading companies were built of logs and surprisingly fronted by show windows. The one hotel, in distinction from several bunk houses, had two stories, with a false front atop the second. Seymour noted also a restaurant, a chop house, a pool hall, several "soft" drink emporiums—all of rough board construction.

A shack of slabs, roofed with cedar shakes, crouched beside the hotel and supported the sign:

OFFICE OF SHERIFF
GOLD BRANCH
OFFICE OF CORONER

Evidently it was from the door of this that Deputy Coroner Hardley had seen the imposter set out on his fatal ride.

Near this shack stood the temporary post office which divided a store room with the records of the mining recorder. The First Bank of Gold occupied a tent with a wood floor. For the reassurance of customers and for the information of all, this tent wore a banner on which was painted: "Our palatial permanent home is under construction across the street." Glancing in that direction, the stranger saw a structure of corrugated iron, awaiting a roof.

Gold, at this season of the year, was a night town, so the streets had been practically deserted as the small procession entered. Even though most of the population was at work up the creeks, there was something of an outpouring into King Street as the news of the shooting spread.

Some fifty men and a scattering of women gathered to mill about the freight wagon soon after the oxen were halted before Hardley's shack. From the vantage of his saddle seat, Seymour studied their faces as they received the news, but caught no trace of any emotion that interested him. All seemed genuinely shocked; none, too deeply moved. He heard many express regret over such a drastic blow at the law. If any rejoiced, they did so secretly.

Deputy Hardley consulted with important citizens, identified for Seymour by the one nearest his stirrup as the bank manager, the camp doctor and the principal realtor. Presently the deputy shilled an announcement that in his capacity of coroner he would swear a jury and hold an inquest at one o'clock in the uncompleted bank building.

The freight wagon, its somber burden covered with tarpaulin, was drawn to a position at the rear of the un-

TIRED OUT ALL THE TIME Nerves Gave Little Rest

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Harrowsmith, Ontario. — "I took your medicine before my baby was born and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would take weak, fainting spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, day or night. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to publish this good medicine. I lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will serve to help others."

— MRS. HARVEY MILLIGAN, R. R. No. 2, Harrowsmith, Ontario.

In a recent canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 100,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 said they had been helped by its use. This medicine is for sale by all druggists.

finished structure, which was open where workmen were laying a heavy flooring for a vault. The townspeople, their curiosity satisfied, began to disperse about their mundane affairs.

In turning Kaw to be about his own, Seymour came face to face with Ruth Duperow, who evidently had just reached town and at speed, for her mount was puffing. "The color of excitement was high in the girl's cheeks. But no hint that she ever had seen him before came from the young woman who, within the hour, had been so solicitous of his welfare as to try to keep him from entering the brush in search of the murderer. Her eyes did not avoid his; they simply did not know him.

Having administered this puzzling cut direct, she focused on the gallant figure of Brewster who rode alongside her, his handsome face alight with undoubted admiration.

"What has happened?" Seymour heard her ask.

"Your dashing sergeant-of-staff has been murdered," Brewster's reply was fittingly low.

"The girl's eyes flashed angrily. 'Terrible! I must say you don't seem greatly distressed, Mr. Brewster, and I'll thank you not to connect me with the poor brave man by saying my sergeant.'

"You've been seeing so much of this Bart person, Ruth, you hadn't had any time for your old friends. Of course, I'm sorry for the way he's been put out of the running, but—"

"That 'but' does you small credit. Who do you suppose—"

"Hardley," he said, "yet." Seymour caught the flicker of contempt in the freighter's eyes. "Better come and have dinner with me at the hotel; this isn't our tragedy."

Her displeasure seemed increased, and she gathered her reins. "I wouldn't think of it," she said with decision. "I must carry the dreadful news to uncle."

Whirling her horse, she dashed away up the road over which she had so lately come.

"Some actress, but why?" murmured Seymour.

There were several whys that the sergeant found it necessary to consider. Why had she cut him at their second meeting? Why had she feigned entire ignorance of what had happened? He could only hope that the same answer would serve for all—that she had acted in the hope of being more free to work out a solution of the mystery as to who had killed Bart.

It was evident from Brewster's complaining attitude that the imposter had paid Miss Duperow enough attention to arouse the handsome freighter's jealousy. And Brewster had misplayed his hand by allowing his feeling to crop out at such a moment when he should have shown the murderer's detection and punishment to be his chief interest. He now stood staring up the street after her, looking utterly discomfited.

Dismounting, Seymour led Kaw across the street and joined Brewster, who snapped out of his mood upon being addressed. The information the sergeant sought was pleasantly given.

The stranger undoubtedly could get a room, such as it was, at the Bonanza Hotel. Brewster himself lived there. The "eats" weren't much, but he could take pot-luck at the restaurant. If his room wasn't airy enough, he could get ample ventilation by poking his finger through the partitions. He'd find the stables "around back." There was no telegraph office—yet, and no radio. Yes, the camp was a little slow in catching up with the times. The next mail would go out in the morning.

"Guess I'd better tell that suspicious deputy where I'm stopping," Seymour remarked when duly posted.

Brewster laughed and shrugged his shoulders. "Don't mind Sam Hardley, stranger. By now his mind is loping along some other line of suspicion. Better come to the inquest, though. With Hardley in the coronor's seat it will be better than vaudeville."

The sergeant did attend the inquest in the unroofed bank building, where the workmen had "laid off" for the "event." That he did not find it as amusing as Brewster had promised was not entirely due to the queer feeling that came with every mention of his name as that of the central figure. He writhed at the official floundering of Hardley, who made an exhibition of a jury which, under sensible direction, would have proved competent.

Seymour had heard strange coroners' verdicts before, but that which this fat deputy sponsored was a prize-winning oddity. Hardley read it aloud:

"We, the jury in this murder case duly impaneled, do and now hereby report that Staff-Sergeant Russell, Seymour of the Royal Mounted Canadian Police, in the pursuit of duty in the proximity of Gold, B.C., did come to an untimely death to the regret of an afflicted law-abiding community."

"We, the jury, etc., do find and hereby report further that the afore-said lamented Seymour was murdered by a rifle bullet fired by the man who held up the B. C. X. stage and killed Ben Tabor, driver thereof and subject of the last preceding inquest of this court, both being foul and fatal murders."

"We, the jury, etc., do find and hereby report still further, that Deputy Coroner Samuel Hardley, Esq., reached the scene of the tragedy with commendable promptitude. We direct him to draw such posse as he finds necessary from amongst the citizens of Gold and run to earth the perpetrator of these dastardly crimes; and, furthermore, we express our confidence that he will leave no stone unturned to justify his reputation as a fearless officer with the encomiums of a successful capture dead or alive."

Hardley's shrill voice was softened by the huskiness of proud emotion as he finished the reading. From his seat on an empty packing box in the front row of spectators, Phil Brewster uttered a fervent "A-men!" then, catching the eye of Seymour who stood along the wall, he winked sardonically.

"Needless to say, fellow citizens of Gold," Hardley strilled on after having cleared his throat, "your officer appreciates the confidence of which this jury of his peers has so fully delivered itself. He will leave no stone unturned to bring to a rope's end the foul fiend guilty of sending to perdition these two men, one a brave officer of the law and the other a worthy driver of the B. C. X. mules. He would respectfully suggest that before you leave this temporary temple of justice, so kindly loaned for the occasion by the public-spirited manager of the First Bank of Gold, each and every one of you look for the last time on one who gave his life that this should be a more decent and law-loving mining camp."

For this last suggestion, Seymour could forgive Hardley's astonishing lack of modesty, even his consigning to "perdition" the two casualties. Although the fat deputy could not have imagined it, he had done the sergeant a pronounced favor.

Seymour lost no time in gaining a position from which he could watch the reaction on every face that looked upon Bart. His attention was caught by a little woman of pleasing countenance, in a drab dress and the beflowered hat of an outsider, whom he had noticed casually during the hearing. Now that the line had thinned to nothing and even the deputy had left his guard-of-honor post, the little woman came forward haltingly and bent over the rude catafalque. Seymour could not see her face for the moment as it was shadowed by her hat brim, but he heard a stifled sob. For an instant, she tottered and seemed so likely to fall that he took a quick step toward her. His aid, however, proved unnecessary. With a shudder, she recovered herself and hurried away, dabbling at her eyes with a bit of cambric.

As the only individual who had shown the least personal emotion, the policeman's interest followed her. So did his steps. Outside, he felt fortunate when he fell in with an acquaintance of the morning, Cato, the driver of oxen.

"Who is the little woman in gray?" he asked casually.

"She's a widow, but not looking for a second," Cato's face was more twisted than usual by its sarcastic grin.

"And I'm not seeking a first," Seymour set him straight. "I asked because she seemed more affected than the other women by Hardley's tribute line."

The old ox driver seemed reassured. "She's just a big-hearted Jane, owner and cook of the Home Restaurant down the street yonder. The sergeant boarded with her before he bloomed out in the royal uniform. I boarded there too, until she turned me down. I'm just wondering—was it him in the office that made her cold towards me? Course, he wouldn't look at her, not serious; him being a staff-sergeant in secret. But women nurse wild hopes—specially widows. Maybe I'd have a chance now he's been plugged into the discard."

Seymour glanced at him in amazement; that he, with his caricature of a face, could speak of women nursing wild hopes.

Evidently Cato read his thoughts. "You needn't look so doubtful, stranger. He flared with resentment. 'Ox driving brings mighty smart wages up here, and I got a claim on Hoodoo Creek that may make me one of them millionaires when I get round to working it next winter. Women can read behind the mask—specially widows.'

Anxious to be off on the trail of his hunch, the sergeant was not sorry when they came to the Brewster warehouse and Cato left to inquire about his next load of freight for the creeks. Russell Seymour felt suddenly hungry—for home cooking.

French Have Scheme To Detect Criminals

Dust On Clothing Of Suspects Is Carefully Examined

Microscopic examination of the dirt and dust upon the clothing of suspects is a new scheme of the French police to catch criminals.

After cross-examination the suspects are stripped of their clothing, whose superficial dust is first examined under a strong microscope. A vacuum cleaner is next applied to draw out other dirt into a pan.

In some instances a more thorough process, in which heating figures, is used to separate all particles of foreign matter. From the dirt thus secured the detectives determine whether the suspect has been telling the truth.

One murderer tried to prove an alibi by saying that he had slept in an open field the night of the crime. Microscopic examination of his clothing showed that he had slept in a quarry.

An unsuspected carpenter was connected with a murder by means of sawdust found on a piece of overalls which the victim had torn from his assailant and which was found at the scene of the crime.

The chief value of the new plan has been in breaking down the bravado of criminals. They frequently confess when shown that their first stories were lies.

Enterprise Of Boy Scout

Sold Old Bottles to Raise Money to Attend Empire Jamboree

A Boy Scout adopted a "strange device" to collect sufficient cash to get overseas for the Empire jamboree. He had been investing and trading for months in old bottles and newspapers, in order to build up the necessary capital, £60, required for the trip. This shows a real spirit of enterprise, and a triumph of pluck over what must have been a natural apathy. Every South African lad should learn something from this brave example and realize that nothing is impossible. The boy in question knew that he had to get £60. He struggled and strove for months, but was far off his goal. Yet, when the public learned the history of his big fight against odds, with all its picturesque details, some persons (unknown), saw to it that the gallant fight of the scout should not go unrewarded. It would be difficult to visualize a better example of the value of determination.—Johannesburg Times.

LITTLE HELPS FOR THIS WEEK

Casting all your care upon Him; for He careth for you.—I. Peter v. 7.

If you fear,
Cast all your care on God; that anchor holds.—Alfred Tennyson.

And so when we are lost in the great maze of life, and wander through the streets of this world feeling that the familiar path is gone, when we see no landmark of duty, no inspiring light of attractive work, and know not where we are, then, if our trust in God does not fail us, we learn lessons we should not otherwise gain. We learn self-direction or humility; we learn to cast our care on Him who cares for us; we learn to be grateful for every kindness that others can do us, and to respect all forms of life, and call no man common.—James Freeman Clarke.

If the World Stopped Whirling

Rotation of the Earth On Its Axis Is Gradually Slowing Down

Reading a paper before the British Astronomical Society Dr. A. C. D. Crommelin said that the rotation of the earth on its axis was gradually slowing down.

"No one need become alarmed over the situation," Dr. Crommelin said to an interviewer. "The slowing-up process has been going on for centuries, and nothing sensational has come out of it. If it did stop things might become uncomfortable. The sun would shine on one side only, while the other side would be wrapped in frozen darkness; and the moon might vanish. If the earth's motion slowed to one rotation a year," he added, "each day would be one year long, as they are thought to be on the planet Mercury. It will take a few hundred million years before the earth's motion, at its present rate, is retarded to a point where it entails actual discomfort."

THE LETTER "E"

Someone has decided that the letter "e" is the most unfortunate letter in the alphabet because it is always out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger, and in hell all the time. No little credit is due however, in that it is never in war and always in peace. And we are deeply indebted to this little letter since it is the beginning of ex-istance, the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no meat, no life and no heaven. It is the center of honesty, and although it starts off in error it ends by making life perfect.—Ex.

Call In The Experts

Sir Arthur Currie, addressing the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, stated that hundreds of millions of dollars in expenditure had been wasted because the Government during war time had refused to heed the advice of experts. He cited the Ross rifle, the Oliver equipment, the harness, and the fact that 100,000 men had been enlisted who were no good to the armies in the field. He intimated that these 100,000 men had each cost the country $1,500, and some of them are still costing the country money, being patients in hospital.

Commenting on these statements, the Financial Post declares that what is true of war times is equally true of peace times, that the losses through inefficiency in the conduct of our public affairs are a very considerable factor in the size of the tax burdens which the business institutions and citizens generally have to bear. It points out, however, that during the Great War crisis the seriousness of the mistakes being made was realized and drastic steps taken—it was a case of efficiency or defeat.

Canadians will do well to realize that it is still a case of efficiency or defeat. The financier, manufacturer, merchant or farmer who has not organized his business on an efficient basis, and who neglects to avail himself of the advice of experts, may continue to struggle along, but he will achieve no outstanding success, while the chances are that he will go down in defeat. The man who despises the advice of others who have made themselves experts in any particular branch of business does not thereby invite bigness nor strength; on the contrary he is revealed as lacking in one of the primary things that make for success.

One of Canada's weaknesses nationally is the failure of our Governments to seek the advice of experts and profit by their knowledge and experience in dealing with national questions and problems of development. With our great wealth of natural resources, there has been a lack of constructive expert leadership in their movement. Political considerations rather than sound economics have all too frequently dictated the policy pursued, and, while defeat has not always followed, we are paying a fearful price in taxation to cover the cost of blunders made.

Membership in the Parliament of Canada is not as representative of the varied interests and industries of the Dominion as it should be. There are too many lawyers, and not nearly enough engineers, scientists, educationists, doctors, chemists and experienced business men. With a scattering of other professions and occupations, membership of the House of Commons may be divided into two main groups—lawyers and farmers. Both are needed. The proper drafting of legislation without lawyers would be impossible, but unfortunately there is a tendency to spend months in the framing, consideration and passing of laws, and when that is done to regard the objective aimed at as reached and a complete cure for ills in the body politic achieved.

Canada could get along with considerably less legislation, and a great deal more sound, expert administration. The main trouble today is in administration, or rather the lack of it along expert lines. The main business of a lawyer is to get people out of trouble after they have got into it, but the business and training of an engineer is to exercise foresight and take precautions guarding against the occurrence of trouble.

In the later years of the war Governments the world over were only too glad to secure the services of experts in every occupation. Red tape, precedents, theorists, went into the discard, and men of knowledge and experience came to the front. Action, the rapid solution of problems, was required, and the practical men of action were the ones finally entrusted with the job.

A survey of the Canadian situation today gives emphasis to the positive declaration of the Financial Post that there is just as much need for men of ability and experience in the Government now as there was in the days when German guns were barking their way to Paris and the channel ports.

Governments are not wholly to blame because there are not more of these men engaged in the public service. Such men were prepared to sacrifice their all during the war, but they cannot be expected to continue the sacrifice throughout their lives. So the people of Canada must face the question discussed in last week's article. That is, they must be prepared to pay these experts salaries commensurate to what their abilities and knowledge command in the world of private business. Having secured such men, then the Government should leave them unhampered by partisan considerations, free to carry out their policies as their expert knowledge and experience dictates. Then, and then only, will Canada begin to reap the full benefit in results for the generous expenditures the country is making on development programmes.

Making Progress With Underwater Telephony

Experiments Conducted By Professor Boyle of Alberta University

Successful experiments off the Atlantic coast during the summer months for the detection of icebergs, hidden reefs and nearby ships, as well as in the development of deep water telegraphy and telephony, have been conducted by Dr. Robert W. Boyle, professor of physics at the University of Alberta. The experiments have been in progress since the middle of April, and were conducted on the icebreaker Montcalm. The scene of operations was off the coasts of Labrador, Newfoundland, Cape Breton and in the Straits of Belle Isle.

A measure of secrecy attaches to the nautical research work of Dr. Boyle, which has been carried on for several years and which is a continuation of that done by him overseas during the war, but the Alberta physicist indicated in a general way what had been accomplished in new methods of sounding for depths, detecting ice and shores, preventing wrecks and avoiding collisions between ships and icebergs.

"We joined the Montcalm at North Sydney about the middle of April and installed the equipment that we had been using at the university and had been brought east for the practical experiments," said Dr. Boyle.

"Previous experiments elsewhere had shown that the presence of ships, shores, reefs, etc., could be detected, and distance and bearing given by this new method. Secret telephony and telegraphy could also be carried on between ships suitably equipped. Such researches were developed until it became possible to detect ships within a couple of miles, shores and reefs within three miles, and to telegraph or telephone secretly for distances of five miles or even more.

DAWN OF WOMANHOOD

A Time of Difficulties When Watchfulness is Needed

Some girls upon the threshold of womanhood drift into a decline in spite of all care and attention. Even strong and usually lively girls become weak, depressed and irritable, and listless. It is the dawn of womanhood—most important in the life of every girl—and prompt measures should be taken to keep the blood rich and pure. If your blood is not in a healthy condition at this stage, the body becomes ill-nourished and other ailments develop. If the health is not maintained by a sufficiency of rich, red blood, all sorts of weaknesses are likely to arise. Remember this, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of girls and women from being life-long invalids, because of their wonderful blood-making properties.

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to young women whose health was failing has been proved over and over again. These pills are the most reliable blood builder, fortifying weak nerves and creating the liberal supply of red healthy blood which a girl needs to sustain her strength. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Another Idea For Fighting Disease

Experiments Being Made at Harvard With Electric Lights

"What's that? Got a stiff neck? Well, step over here while I paint it with this solution; sit down while I turn on this battery of electric lights—and feel it limber up."

This may be the prescription for immovable necks and other similar ailments, perhaps, in the near future, if experiments underway at Harvard University, with chemical solutions and ordinary electric lights, develop.

The tests are based on the theory that certain chemicals so sensitize diseased organic cells that the simple light of an electric bulb destroys the affected organisms and stimulate growth of healthy cells.

Salvaging of German Vessels Will Take Three Or Four Years

The first ship of Germany's wartime navy, which was sent to the bottom of the sea at Scapa Flow by her officers on June 21, 1919, has been raised and will be consigned to an equally ignominious end on the scrap-iron heap.

A firm of London engineers has completed the salvage of the vessel the destroyer V-70—after a year's work and many unsuccessful attempts to float her.

The V-70 was a big ship of the 80 class which had sunk in 20 fathoms of water in the centre of the Flow. The engineers had exhausted the best known methods of ship salvaging before using the system of underpinning heavy cables and raising the ship by means of the floating dock. This latter method was used about six weeks ago when the vessel was raised eleven feet before the iron chains which were then used broke, thus allowing the prize to settle once again to the bottom.

Wire cables were then substituted, which supported the enormous weight long enough to permit the dock to be placed under the ship.

The dock was then towed near the shore where workmen will start to cut through the heavy steel hull and dismantle the fittings. At present the engineers are unable to estimate the ship's value, but after they had pierced the heavy seaweed coating they found the metal to be in a better state than was expected. They claim that the salvage work, though costly, will show a good profit, but it will not make a very large contribution to aiding the reparations payments.

Several of the other ships which were scuttled in the Flow will be raised in a similar manner, but it will take between three and four years to complete the work.

It has Many Qualities.—The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is armed against many ills. It will relieve a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, relieve the most persistent sores and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. Market For Whale Meat

Entire Output of Canned Whale From B.C. Goes to Africa

West Africa is avenging Jonah. Descendants of the whale that swallowed the Biblical character are being swallowed in large quantities by the inhabitants of the West African coast. British Columbia's entire output of canned whale meat last year was marketed, according to provincial trade authorities, among the settlements between Liberia and the Congo.

The new market has given the whaling industry in British Columbia a new impetus and promises to bring it great prosperity in the future. Whaling operations this year are reported to have been more successful than for many seasons.

Foresight is undoubtedly an admirable thing, and yet the farther a man can see the less is he sure he is right.

BERLIN WOULD ENTER LEAGUE ON CONDITIONS

Berlin.—The German Government is drawing up a memorandum setting forth the conditions under which Germany will apply for membership in the League of Nations. The memorandum will be sent to all of the governments which are members of the League Council, and will set forth the German desires and conditions.

The memorandum, it is understood, will ask definite enlightenment as to whether Germany will be offered permanent seats in the council of the league and it will expressly declare that Germany's entry into the league would in no way imply readmission of her war guilt.

It is also understood that the memorandum will request information as to the obligations Germany would undertake through membership, especially regarding the transport of foreign troops through Germany for the assistance of a neighboring state which might be attacked by a third power.

On this point the German Government contends that such transport would involve a breach of neutrality, especially towards Russia, and that it might lead to hostilities.

The memorandum, which probably will be submitted to the Governments concerned at an early date, will first be examined by the cabinet and by the Government of the federal states.

British Navy Not At League's Disposal

Home Secretary Makes Clear Statement To Dispel Misgivings

Geneva.—The clear and precise statement of Arthur Henderson, British Home Secretary, on the attitude of the British delegation on the question of the use of the British fleet in enforcing sanctions against an aggressive nation, it is believed, will dispel any misgivings which may have been entertained in connection with the matter in the earlier stages of the discussion by the committee of disarmament.

Mr. Henderson declared the British Government had no idea of placing British troops or ships at the disposal of the Council of the League of Nations to use as it thought fit, nor ever had such an idea, and there was no intention whatever on the part of the Government of converting the league into a war council and imposing on it the burden of conducting military campaigns or naval operations.

Greece Preparing To Pay Debts
New York.—Greece is preparing to dispatch a special mission to the United States for the purpose of funding and concluding arrangements for the gradual repayment and extinction of her war debt to the United States. It is to start immediately after the parliamentary elections next month, and will be headed, according to present arrangements, by Georges Roussos, the present Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Saskatoon.—One of the two vacancies on the Canadian National Railways Board of Directors should be filled by a Saskatchewan man, a Saskatchewan Board of Trade delegation will tell Premier King when he visits this city early in October. A large proportion of the C.N.R. lines lie in Saskatchewan and Alberta, but these provinces have no direct representation among the directors.

Prince In Favor Of Second Season At Wembley

London.—Great interest is expressed by the English press at the announcement that H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, when staying at Ottawa, will act in his capacity as President of the British Empire Exhibition, in trying to induce the Canadian Government to favor and support a second season at Wembley. It is recalled that the Prince, by his interviews with Right Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, of the Canadian Government, had much to do with securing Canada's original participation in the exhibition. The London Star designates the Prince "our uncommercial traveler."

Will Be Test Case

Shareholders of Home Bank Claim Grain Growers' Holding Not Valid

Toronto.—Arguments against the payment by shareholders in the defunct Home Bank of double liability for the failure of the bank's assets will be heard here on November 17 next.

One of the transactions which will be aired at the hearing will be the acquisition of the assets of the Banque Internationale which will be declared by counsel for the appeal to have been null and void. An expenditure of about $200,000 is involved.

It is also alleged that all persons who hold shares held by the Grain Growers' Grain Company, Limited, and the United Grain Growers are not shareholders in the Home Bank, because such shares were not validly created, issued or allotted.

The contributors also allege that the Home Bank entered into an "illegal, improvident, pernicious, improper, highly speculative, vicious, fraudulent and ultra vires contract or agreement with the Home Savings and Loan Company." It is declared that this was not a bank at all, and that the half million dollars paid for its assets cannot be charged against the Home Bank shareholders.

A. W. Ballantyne, K.C., who is appearing for the liquidators of the Home Bank, stated that a test case would be made, and upon this the liability of the others would hinge. The cost of the test case would be paid out of the bank's estate. Messrs. Bain and O'Donohue will be counsel for the shareholders.

Always Pleased To Visit Western Canada

Locked Forward to Rest on Ranch Says Prince

Winnipeg.—On his way to his ranch in Alberta, the Prince of Wales stopped off in Winnipeg for three hours. His programme was quite informal and bereft of all ceremony. At the Canadian National station he was met by Mayor Farmer, who expressed his pleasure and the gratification of the citizens in general at the visit of His Royal Highness. The Prince said he was always pleased to visit Western Canada, and he was looking forward to the rest and recreation to be obtained on his ranch. A representative of the Prince, also was on the platform to greet the Prince, and there were present members of the railway staff and a few citizens.

Leningrad Recovers From Flood
Leningrad.—The water was subsiding rapidly from the streams of Leningrad after the flood of Sept. 23, the worst suffered in years by the former Russian capital. Traffic was being resumed in the districts most affected, but the electric and telephone services were still interrupted. No casualties were reported.

Manitoba Crops
Winnipeg.—There is decidedly more agricultural optimism in Manitoba than is usual at this time of the year. It is disclosed in a statement issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. A small percentage of grain remains to be cut, and in Southern Manitoba about 20 per cent. of the crop is threshed.

No Women Justices
Melbourne.—The Legislative Council of the State of Victoria, by a vote of 18 to 8, rejected the Government's bill providing for the appointment of women as justices.

Ukraine Wants Western Horses

Profitable Trade Assured If Financing Can Be Arranged

Calgary, Alta.—Whether the Ukrainian Government will buy 1,000 horses in Alberta and Saskatchewan this fall depends on two factors, namely, its ability to satisfy the Dominion Government that it can guarantee the financing, and second, its ability to make arrangements with the transportation companies.

The Ukraine wants the horses and has authorized Barney Hepburn, of Montreal, to make the purchases, but it has offered only $35 a head for transportation from the point of purchase to Odessa, whereas it has been found the transportation, which includes the care and feeding of the horses enroute, will cost $65 a head.

There is a great shortage of horses not only in the Ukraine but throughout Europe on account of the ravages of the war, and it is stated that only the necessarily high costs of transportation and difficulties in arranging the financing, prevent a profitable trade with Western Canada.

Border Smugglers Fined

Three U.S. Citizens Must Also Pay Double Duty

Moose Jaw.—Customs officials are taking steps to check smuggling, which has been carried on on a large scale in Southwestern Saskatchewan. As the result of the activity of the Federal Immigration and Customs Officers, Norval Shuttleworth, of Diebolt, N.D., and Ferdinand Schrimmer and Frank Bloomquist, also American citizens, were fined for failing to register their entry from the States. The three men were also fined under the inland revenue act. Bloomquist and Schrimmer, who operated their smuggling on a partnership basis, were each fined $50 and ordered to pay double duty.

Shuttleworth was found to have been smuggling radio sets into Canada. He was reprimanded and charged double duty on the sets.

C. Livingstone, of Leitchville, also near the border, was found guilty of bringing a number of automobiles into Canada and he was charged double duty.

Losses By Cattle Disease
Brussels.—The foot and mouth disease which is raging among the cattle of Belgium has thus far caused losses estimated at 50,000,000 francs. In August, the total number of cattle afflicted was 143,392. A large number of hogs also were stricken.

Victorian Nurses Award Thirteen Scholarships

Ottawa.—The central board of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada announces the award of thirteen scholarships of $400 each, to well-qualified nurses, graduates of standard hospital training schools, which will enable them to take the university courses in public health at the several Canadian universities offering such a course. The awards for the university year 1924-25 includes Miss Hazel Brunner, Edmonton, Alta., to the University of British Columbia.

Philippines Not Exempt

U.S. State Department Rules Volstead Act Must Be Observed

Washington.—The eighteenth amendment to the United States constitution has stretched out its forbidding hands to the Philippine Islands. Under a legal decision holding shipment to the islands of liquor for beverage purposes to be contrary to the amendment, the State Department has instructed all United States consular officers to decline to clear vessels with such destination and cargo.

Disclosure that such orders had been issued last June was made by the department on receipt of dispatches from Manila indicating a belief on the part of Governor General Wood, that the Philippines were exempted from the Volstead Act, which a Department of Justice decision has held to be not the case. The dispatches reported, that General Wood had requested that the United States consul at Hong Kong, China, be instructed to issue bills of health to vessels sailing from that port for the Philippines with liquor cargoes indicating, he believed, the consul was raising clearance because of a misunderstanding of the law.

New Discovery On X-Ray Treatment

Secondary Radiations Chief Curative Agents Says Philadelphia Physician

Wilkes Barre, Pa.—Discovery that the secondary radiations from the Roentgen tube, and not the primary X-rays were the effective ones in the treatment of malignant diseases may open the way for more successful treatment of cancer, Dr. Donald Butts, of Philadelphia, told the Homoeopathic Medical Society of Pennsylvania in annual convention here. Dr. Butts said he had found that the Beta rather than the Gamma rays of radium accomplished the reduction of cancerous and other diseased tissues and the application of the new principle was constructive and not caustic or destructive "as is often the case in radium treatments of cancer at present."

New York Bankers Looking For Business

Interested In Prospective Borrowing By Canadian Provinces

New York.—The Tribune says that the bond market is much interested in projected Canadian financing. Quite an amount of reitending and new borrowing by the Canadian provinces and municipalities is in sight and New York bankers are hoping to get a large share of the total. The paper says that preliminary enquiries were reported in connection with a Manitoba refunding loan of $17,000,000 and the City of Toronto asked for bids on a $15,000,000 loan.

Would Continue Act.

Toronto.—The principals of Toronto public schools have gone on record as favoring a continuance of the Ontario Temperance Act. Fear that easier access to intoxicants would increase the traffic fatalities among school children is given a prominent place in the preamble to the resolution.

Washington.—The navy's huge dirigible, the Shenandoah, will leave Lakeland, N.J., on October 3, for a "speed test" across the country, carrying her for the first time to the Pacific coast, the navy department announced.

Fire Prevention Week

Ottawa.—Fire prevention week was proclaimed Sept. 24. It begins Sunday, October 5, and ends Saturday, October 11.

MINERAL RICHES OF NORTH MAY BE EXPLOITED

Quebec.—The long discussed question as to whether the Dominion of Canada will ever benefit materially from the mineral riches of the northern islands in the vicinity of the Arctic Circle, many of which have been claimed for Canada in recent years by Captain J. S. Bernier, noted adventurer and Arctic explorer, would appear to be more definitely settled with the arrival of the steamer Arctic at this port.

That there is every reason to be enthusiastic over the almost limitless possibilities in regard to the mineral development of the north country, was the keynote of statements made by members of the expedition to the Canadian Press, the information being given out that, perhaps, in a short period of time, agents of the Federal Government will take steps to open up and develop what are considered to be huge treasures in mineral ore.

F. D. Henderson, of the Northwest Territories and Yukon branch of the Department of the Interior, stated, in an interview, that although it would be a little premature to speak with exactitude as to the wealth of the northern islands, he and all concerned were strongly of the opinion that the resources there might prove to be of such a vast and wealthy nature as to astonish the civilized world. The Arctic went as far north as Kane Basin, on the northeastern coast of Greenland.

More Harvesters Needed

Winnipeg.—There is a known shortage of more than 2,000 harvest workers in Saskatchewan, according to R. W. Brewis, of Regina, representing the Saskatchewan Branch of the Labor Employment Service of Canada, and in five days here Mr. Brewis has been able to recruit only 100 men in his efforts to relieve the shortage.

Settlers Leaving Drought Area

Edmonton.—About 100 settlers' families have already moved out from drought-stricken areas in Southeastern Alberta to new locations in various parts of the province, and inquiries and applications are still coming in daily. The movement, it is thought, is now well under way and is likely to assume somewhat large proportions, though still falling short of anything like a stampede.

Mrs. Reiber and Mrs. Cunningham are attending the Provincial Annual convention of the W. C. T. U. being held in the Knox Presbyterian church at Edmonton this week.

The Senior L. T. S. class will meet in the public school basement on Monday night, October 6th, at 8 o'clock. All boys and girls from thirteen to sixteen years of age are welcome.

The Rev. H. Clay will hold Harvest Festival Services in the Church of England on Sunday, October 5th at 3 p. m., also on Wednesday evening, October 8th at 7.30 p. m. and not on Thursday as previously announced.

Mr. Henry Roeth reports to us that he brought in the first load of wheat from the west country this year. It was brought in Tuesday and graded No. 1.

An embargo has been placed on grain shipments to the head of the lakes according to a Duluth dispatch. There is so much grain coming into that port that they cannot get it out fast enough. The embargo will likely last for four or five days.

The sale of gasoline on Sundays has been stopped by the police and Attorney-General's department in Calgary. Consequently Calgary is doing its best to get the department to stop the sale of gasoline anywhere in Alberta on Sundays. At present it looks as though they will be successful. Poor Calgary!

The young business women of Didsbury organized themselves into a club last week for social purposes and elected Miss Elder, assistant to Mayor Chambers, as President. Here's hoping that they will have lots of fun.

The post office will be in its new quarters in the block formerly occupied by the Western Mutual Ins. Co. on Thursday. Postmaster Morgan and his assistant are a busy pair this week.

CLOVERMOUNT AND WESTCOTT ITEMS

Mr. Dan Dipple has been threshing lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hunsperger spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Levagood.

Mr. Wm. Wilson had a little excitement last week when his team ran away with the binder causing so much damage that he went to town and got a new one.

Messrs. Ira and Harry Levagood have purchased a new threshing machine.

Haven't seen Pat around Westcott for a couple of days. Wonder what's happened.

Miss Clara Armstrong is in B. C. spending the fall with her sister.

A young winter arrived in this district last week. The snow was quite heavy and a lot of the grain went down.

Miss Masuel from Calgary is visiting at Viponds.

Miss Thelma Levagood spent the week end at Amos Webers.

We are glad to hear Charles Brown Jr. has recovered nicely from his recent illness and is around again.

Mr. Ralph Metzgar and Mrs. Clarence Erbie and little daughters have been visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. John Metzgar.

Mr. Victor Korschuk is working at Mr. Smiley's. Nice and handy is it not.

Mr. Rennie attended the funeral of Mr. Ray's little daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Levagood and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Levagood attended the program in Didsbury on Sunday at the Evangelical church.

While driving to town the rear axle of Harry Levagood's car broke.

Carl is raising a pet under his nose or seven hairs and eleven roses.

Silence That Is Not Golden

THE merchant who fails to "speak up" lets a lot of golden sales slip past his store. This lost business goes either to his competitor down street or by the mail order route to the big city stores.

People are often surprised to find that the goods they bought "unsight unseen" from a catalogue can be seen and examined in the local store!

Tell your buying public what you have. ADVERTISING in "The Didsbury Pioneer" will invite the whole community to your store. And—

ATTENTION CREAM SHIPPERS

It is just as necessary to cool cream below 50 degrees Fahrenheit in cold weather as in warm weather. See that this is done immediately after separating. Cream allowed to cool in a cold atmosphere will develop too much acid before it gets cold.
